

PREDICTS INDUSTRIAL AWAKENING

Secretary of Commerce Redfield Addresses Greater Dayton Association

EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT

In Industrial Training Being Promulgated Throughout Country—Improvements in Methods of Manufacture.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Dayton, O., Feb. 25.—An industrial awakening that will revolutionize the nations business, minimize the possibility of wrecked and wasted lives, and elevate working men and women to positions that will keep them alive in safety and decency, was confidentially predicted here last night by William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce, speaking on the human side of factory, commercial and industrial life before the Greater Dayton Association.

"I speak of this not in criticism; not as finding fault that more is not done, but rather as opening the door to a mighty hope," Mr. Redfield said. "We have prized ourselves upon our education in this country, for we have done much and made great sacrifices that our children might be taught, and there are those of you who, like myself, have had nothing except that which the generosity of an intelligent public gave to them in the way of school instruction. But here another door opens wide leading into a prospect rich in its promises of social and industrial improvement."

"Good as our schools are they leave much undone. We are not teaching our boys and girls how to work. We turn them out—speaking of the country as a whole—at fourteen years of age, the larger part of them, from our grammar schools with a certain amount of academic knowledge, but without any training whatever for the real work of life. The boy suffers in his pay and in his product a good many years before he can pick up by questioning here and there or learn from mistakes how to support himself at a definite trade. The girl suffers perhaps worse with a terrible cost to the nation in wrecked womanhood."

"I have not time to go into the tragic question of the need for industrial education, into the thought of the wasted young lives that lack leadership, that go out into the world not knowing how to do any one thing well. It is one of the real tragedies that has its pitiful reactions in every industrial home. The mechanic would have his son learn a trade well and not have to struggle to get it as his father did. A mother would have her daughter taught something which will keep her alive in decency and in safety and without the risks young working women so often must run."

"The thought of the nation has been too supine on this matter, but it is now beginning to awake, and the quick response of the young people to vocational education in the states where it is furnished; the splendid

PROMISE OF FAIR WEATHER AND RISE IN TEMPERATURES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Feb. 25.—With temperatures ranging from zero to 18 below in Ohio, the day dawned cold and clear. Fair weather and rising temperatures were forecast by the weather bureau.

Zanesville, in the Muskingum river valley reported 18 degrees below zero at daybreak, while at 7 o'clock thermometers at that point registered 16 degrees below. Newark reported 12 degrees below. Farther east, along the Ohio river, the weather bureau said it was four below and that the cold wave was moving eastward, with prospects for colder weather in the Ohio valley tonight.

Akron and Canton each reported 10 degrees below zero this morning. The official temperature at Columbus was zero at 7 o'clock, while Cincinnati reported a similar temperature. Cleveland reported 2, and Mansfield 4 degrees below zero.

Snow today invaded sections of the South where it has not been seen before in fifteen or twenty years. In Savannah there was two inches of snow—the first in a score of years—while Augusta had a like fall. New Orleans probably was the point farthest South to report snow—the first there since 1903. An area of extremely cold air and a "disturbance" over the eastern part of the Gulf of Mexico, were responsible, officials at the weather bureau stated today.

REP. DECKER OF MISSOURI, ACTIVE IN FRAMING ADMINISTRATION BILLS

COPYRIGHT HARRIS & EWING, WASH.

Pert S. Decker the boyish looking statesman, representing the Joplin zinc mine district in Congress, who is active in the House Committee on interstate commerce committee in framing legislation to regulate commerce under the administration scheme of anti-trust reform. Decker is 39 years old, but his apple blossom cheeks and flowing blond locks that curl over his brow and his youthful statue fool you. Touch him on an interested subject of legislation and he will soar into the blue empyrean and Parnassian heights. He is one of the best speakers in Congress. He's the quick kind that cocks a cigar at a Canonesque tilt, skewers. He's the quick kind that cocks he finishes the listening stunt the de-luge comes. He unleashed a quantity of oratory that amazed the tariff and currency caucuses, he struck the high spots in several subsequent speeches and then he relaxed till he could get interested again. Now it's trust-tinkering. Decker is a brilliant young lawyer with 226,374 folks, to be exact, in his constituency. He thinks more of his district than of the pomposity of the national politics.

Mother Walks 7 Miles Through Snow, Clad in Night-dress to See Her Two Little Children

Mt Vernon, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Mabel Chapman, defendant in a divorce action in the Knox county common pleas court, the plaintiff being the Rev. Harley L. Chapin, a Baptist minister at Fredericktown, walked from Mt. Vernon to Fredericktown, a distance of 7 miles, Monday night, clad only in a night-dress, pair of moccasins and a short coat. She suffered from the bitter cold, and is in a very serious condition at the home of Charles Fink in Fredericktown, where she is under the care of Dr. Ernest V. Ackerman.

Mrs. Chapin, a part of whose recent marital troubles is said to have resulted from night tris made in and about Fredericktown, is a victim of somnambulism. It is thought she left Mt. Vernon about 10:30 o'clock Monday night. She has been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Fleming, and was reading in the living room there when Mrs. Fleming retired about 9:30. Evidently Mrs. Chapin retired soon afterwards. Nothing else is known about what transpired in the meantime, but between 2 and 2 o'clock Mrs. Fleming received a telephone message from Fredericktown stating that Mrs. Chapin was in that village.

Mrs. Fleming states that Mrs. Chapin has been greatly worried about her two little children ever since she came to Mt. Vernon, and that she has been more than ordinarily depressed since her husband filed his divorce petition asking divorce on scriptural grounds. The young woman is said to have summoned Chapin to this city and complained to him in regard to this charge, and Mrs. Fleming says, the minister explained that this was a technical error and that he would have it corrected in the petition. It is not known what route Mrs. Chapin followed in going to Fredericktown Monday night, but it is thought she walked the B. and O. railway track. If she did, it is most remarkable that she was not killed by a train, as it is claimed she was asleep all the while and is not able to recall anything connected with her very unusual experience.

PASSENGER TRAIN OVER EMBANKMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Dayton, O., Feb. 25.—An engine and five passenger coaches of C. H. and D. train No. 1, southbound, went over a 25-foot embankment at Peterson, a flag stop, two miles south of Troy at 11:15 this morning. The train hit a defective rail.

None of the passengers was seriously injured and the crew also escaped. All the cars were of steel. The train was due in Dayton at 11:30 o'clock, bound for Cincinnati, and was running late, but had not regained its speed after stopping at Peterson.

William Roberts and Jack Clifford, both of Lima, engineer and conductor of the train, ascertained none of the passengers had been hurt and there was no danger from fire or explosion and then walked away from the scene, slightly injured.

EX-MINISTER TO BE SENTENCED ON FRAUD CHARGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Feb. 25.—The Rev. Francis C. Baker, formerly a Congregationalist minister in Waterbury, Conn., will be sentenced on Tuesday for grand larceny in connection with a loan swindle for which his partner, William M. Harney, was sentenced to ten months in prison.

The two men induced their victims to pay fees for the work of "searching" titles to properties offered the defendants as security for loans.

TO RETURN BECKER TO THE TOMBS

Attorney Visits Him In the Death House At Sing Sing Prison

FIRST THOUGHT OF WIFE

When Informed of Court's Action Granting Him a New Trial—Has Been in Prison for Past Sixteen Months.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 25.—As soon as Charles Becker gets out of prison he will devote all his energies, he says, to running down the men who are responsible for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. The former New York police lieutenant, who was granted a new trial yesterday for the Rosenthal murder, declared today that he could furnish information that would bring the real culprits to justice.

"After I have done that," said Becker, "I shall be willing to go back to the police department, if they want me. If they do not, I will enter some other line of work."

"The four gunmen are terribly downhearted today because they too were not granted a new trial. They thought their case was tied up with mine. When I was informed that I had been granted a new trial they immediately concluded they had too. They were joyous. It was hard when they were told the truth."

"The four men who got life insurance policies from the district attorney for swearing away my life, may yet be arrested for the murder of Rosenthal. I think that Harry Vallon is the man who fired the fatal shot. That is the reason he got drunk before the killing. He wanted to get his nerve up for the deed. He needed courage to pull the trigger of his revolver."

Becker was in high spirits today when the newspapermen met him in the warden's office. He burst into a torrent of reminiscences, promises, threats and self-congratulations.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Feb. 25.—Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, convicted of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler who has just been granted a new trial, was visited in the death house at Sing Sing prison today by his attorney, Joseph A. Shay.

Tomorrow, the attorney told Becker, he expects to serve the remittitur of the court of appeals on the prison warden. Becker will then leave the death house where he has been confined since the fall of 1912, and be returned to a cell in the Tombs prison until the final disposition of his case.

When informed of the court's action Becker's first thought was of his wife, whose loyalty to him has never waned. He asked that she be notified. Later he met newspapermen to whom he expressed his feeling of happiness and confidence of ultimate freedom.

Becker's stay of 16 months in the death house has resulted in changes in his appearance. Also he has read a great deal—Bible, Shakespeare and many other works of literature—for a purpose which he would not disclose. Warden Clancy has had a hard time supplying Becker with books, one which he had an especially hard time finding was Disraeli's "Curiosities of Literature."

"What do I think of it?" Becker said in answer to a question. "Well, what would you think of it after you had heard such news after being here for 16 months. I am pleased beyond words."

Jack Reese, the chief witness for the state against Becker, said today that he was ready to testify again in the case if wanted. He showed feeling when mention was made of the suggestion that Becker was made a victim in order that others who confessed their part in the plot might be saved.

SHARKEY IMPRISONED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, Feb. 25.—Tom Sharkey, former pugilist will have to serve out his term of 30 days in the Tombs and pay the fine of $3.00 inflicted on him for maintaining the saloon on East 14th street.

KING WILL SEE BASEBALL GAME IN OLD LUNNON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Feb. 25.—King George and several members of the royal family are to be present tomorrow at the baseball game between the New York and Chicago teams. The game is to be played at the Chelsea football grounds. The two teams were the guests of honor today at a luncheon of the American business colony. Consul General Griffiths presided.

DYNAMITE USED ON STATE'S STRONG BOX AT DES MOINES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 25.—An unsuccessful attempt to dynamite the vault in the state treasurer's office here was made early today after two of the state house watchmen had been bound and gagged. The safe blowers left the capitol building with only $5, which they took from a cash drawer in the treasurer's office.

TO INVESTIGATE INCEST CHARGE AGAINST AYERS

Samuel Ayers was committed to the county jail by Probate Judge Hunter Wednesday morning for 20 days pending investigation of a charge of incest, and involving his daughter, Ida Ayers, said to be 16. Ayers, his wife and four children were brought into court to answer to a delinquency charge. There are two young boys, the daughter and an older son. The family was taken into custody by the police after sleeping out in a camp wagon Saturday night, it was charged.

The outcome of the hearing in juvenile court Wednesday at the incest investigation was the commitment of the daughter to the county infirmary. Her condition is delicate, and she bears the appearance of a woman nearer 40 than 16. The mother was released on condition that the two sons be sent to school, and the older son expressed a desire to go to work. He was released on his promise to do so.

The older son will undertake to aid the mother in supporting herself and the younger boys until the father is able to assist, provided the incest investigation does not terminate in further prosecution. The family will live in a home established for them in the South Side.

Biggest and Finest List of Prizes Ever Offered By Any Newspaper In a City the Size of Newark, O.

No newspaper in a city of 30,000 or less ever offered as large and as valuable a list of prizes in a contest as is now announced by the Advocate in the big Booklovers' Contest just starting. It is with no little pride that the Advocate offers 136 splendid prizes worth $3,846 to readers of this newspaper—prizes that are absolutely free.

The conditions of the contest are so easy that any body may participate, a child as well as a student or scholar. The Advocate has made it easy for any one to start now as all of the pictures to date were printed in yesterday's paper and a list of 70 books was given the first six pictures having been taken from these 70 books. Many new subscribers are availing themselves of this opportunity.

Several subscribers have called the Advocate's attention today to the fact that Mr. U. O. Stevens' cigar and news man, has posted "probable answers" to the Advocate pictures in his show window. This is a clever way Mr. Stevens has adopted of advertising his own business. He knows that these probable answers will interest the contestants. He is not selling "probable answers" but is simply offering contestants the benefit of his own judgment of the pictures. Mr. Stevens doesn't know the real answers of course, and doesn't pretend that his window cards are anything more than they really are—his own judgment of the Advocate pictures.

The list of 136 prizes is again printed today. Look it over. Note the increases in the several cash prizes, note the new Ford car and a lot of new prizes, every one worth winning. Entrance to the contest is free. The prizes are free. It is just as easy to enter now as it was 10 days ago. While a few of the first pictures are pronounced "hard" by some of the contestants yet the publication of the list of 70 books makes the solution of the first six easy and a great number of the pictures to come will be easy of solution. Don't get discouraged because a few may appear difficult. Did anyone expect to solve every picture correctly? If every picture could be easily answered everybody would win first prize.

Get in the great game now. You will be sorry later if you don't. The $3,846 of fine prizes are all free to you and other readers of the paper.

This Nifty 1914 Ford Car is the Second Prize in Advocate Contest

Of the 136 splendid prizes given in the Advocate $3,846 Booklovers' Contest just starting this nifty 1914 Ford is one of the best. It will be given to one of the Advocate readers. Get the details of this big contest if you are not already solving the pictures.

U. S. OFFICIALS RECEIVE PLEDGE THAT BENTON'S BODY WILL BE EXUMED

Widow Will Be Permitted to Visit Cemetery Accompanied By An American Representative So That Examination Can Be Made

GEN. CARRANZA TO INVESTIGATE THE EXECUTION

Character of Wounds Will Determine Manner in Which Englishman Met his Death While Calling Upon the Rebel Chieftain—Secretary Bryan Visits President Wilson at White House But Makes No Comment on Situation—Will Uncle Sam Land Troops to Recover Body of Benton?

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) El Paso, Texas, Feb. 25.—In connection with the investigation of the death of William S. Benton and the disappearance of Gustav Baugh ordered by the state department a new development in the situation has been discovered here. Luis Cabarara, Carranza's confidential agent, visited the rebel officials at Juarez yesterday and is reported to have done some very plain speaking with reference to the Benton and Baugh matters.

"We must clear up these things no matter how black they may turn against us," Cabarara told his fellow revolutionists. "Delay only makes things worse. It is like a snow ball growing constantly larger."

As a result of his conference two rebel officials left Juarez last night on a special train and arrived at Chihuahua this morning after an unusually fast run. Cabarara's representations will be placed before General Villa today, if plans do not miscarry. It is hoped that he will be convinced that his seeming policy of evasion is a mistaken one.

Consul Edwards at Juarez and George C. Carothers, special agent for the state department, were without definite information as to Baugh and as to Benton's body today.

A newspaper special last night quoted Villa as saying that he took Benton's body to Chihuahua with him. If so, Consul Letcher at that city has no information as to where it was buried. Also he has no trace of Baugh.

In the case of the latter, Juarez officials agreed to the state department's request that Baugh would not be removed from the border. According to Villa, however, this was done, the prisoner being taken to Chihuahua. His latest statement is that he does not know where the German-American is. At Juarez it is insisted that he is not in custody.

These conflicts in stories are held by many persons here to confirm the confidential report made by General Scott, commander at Fort Bliss, that Baugh was executed last Friday morning before Villa and his staff departed for Chihuahua.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 25.—General Villa's proposal for an American examination of the body of William S. Benton, the English ranchman he executed at Juarez, without permitting its removal from Mexico, has been accepted by this government without wavering, however, any further movement to demand its delivery on American soil. British Consul Perceval at Galveston was today ordered to proceed to El Paso at once, where he is expected to arrive tomorrow to go to the grave in Juarez with a delegation of Americans.

Major General Scott, commanding the United States troops there, will detail the American army surgeon and any other officers to accompany the British consul. A member of Benton's family will be taken with the party.

That course has been decided upon pending the outcome of efforts to secure the surrender of the body to Benton's family which will not be abated in the least.

Secretary Bryan discussed the situation with the Senate foreign relations committee for more than two hours.

Both the Secretary and senators declined to discuss their conference except to say the trend was to get at the facts leaving the questions of policy for future determination.

"What we were seeking to establish," said Mr. Bryan, "was the actual situation, all the facts regarding the Huerta government and the constitutionalists movement."

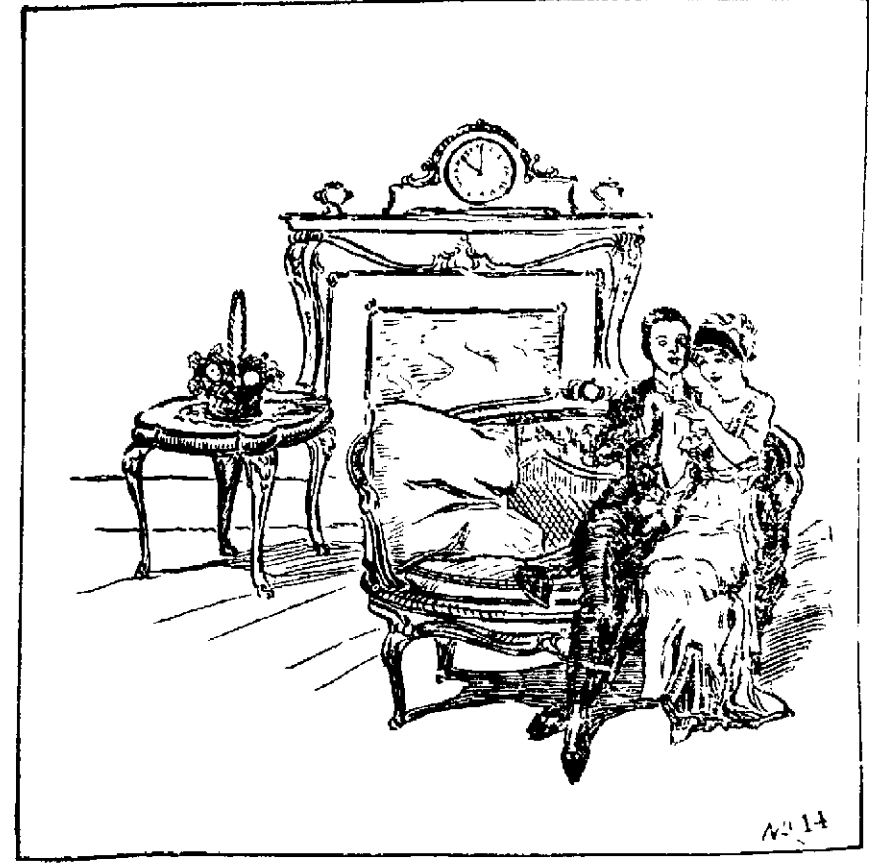

Representative Arner, of Pennsylvania, Republican, today introduced a resolution directing the president, if compatible with public interest to transmit to the house all information that may be in his possession of the state department regarding the treatment of citizens of the United States and other countries in regard to the safety and surety of their property and to inform the house what action, if any, had been taken for the protection of American citizens.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 25.—Further representations were made by the American government today to General Francisco Villa, pointing out the importance of giving up the body of William S. Benton, the Englishman recently executed at Juarez, whose death is being officially investigated by both the United States and Great Britain. Immediately upon receipt of word from Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, that Benton's body would be exhumed and returned, who could visit the cemetery with an American representative, a second request was sent forth in Villa asking that the corpse be turned over to the widow on American territory.

Villa's refusal to comply to this request for the body has not met with favor of the state department, who are seeking now to impress upon him through Consul Letcher the importance of its surrender. Generally will attack to a refusal. General Carranza, chief of all the constitutional forces, is expected (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

Advocate Booklovers' Contest Prize Picture

WHAT BOOK IS MEANT BY THIS PICTURE?

COUPON NO. 14.

Newark Advocate Booklovers' Contest.

Title

Author

My Name

My Address

(14) FEBRUARY 25, 1914. (14)

Clip out your coupons neatly, and fill them out clearly and plainly, remembering that in the event of a tie for any prize between two or more contestants, neatness and clear writing will win the judges' favor. The picture is to be a part of the coupon. Do not detach the coupon from the picture.

Send no answers whatever to the Advocate until the contest is ended by the publication of Picture No. 70. Any answers received before that time will be destroyed and will not be counted. Read the rules carefully.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest.

Any person may compete in this contest who lives either in Licking, Delaware, Knox, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Fairfield or Franklin counties, Ohio, except employees of the Advocate or members of their families.

Answers to the picture must be written upon the coupon blank which will be printed every day with each picture during the seventy publication days the contest will last. Both picture and blank must be clipped from the paper, and the blank properly filled in with the name of book and the author's name together with the name and address of the contestant written clearly and plainly in the space provided. Not more than one person's name may be written on any coupon.

Each picture will represent the title of only one book, but there may be some pictures that suggest the title of several books. For the benefit of contestants, and to allow for this variety of solution, any contestant may give as many as five answers to any picture, at will; but not more than one solution may be written on any coupon. If the contestant gives two answers as likely to include the correct one, two coupons must be used. If three answers, three coupons, and so on.

In each instance, whether the contestant gives one answer or five answers to any picture, both the pictures and coupon must be used for each of the answers, and not more than five answers to any picture will be permitted.

If any one of the five answers that may be given to any picture is correct, the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances.

Prizes will be awarded to every contestant, by the Contest Judges, who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons. Thus, if a contestant gives the correct answers to 70 of the pictures and uses only 70 coupons, that contestant will rate higher in the prize standings than one who uses 140 coupons or any higher number up to 280 for supplying the 70 correct answers.

If two or more persons supplying the same number of correct answers, have used the same number of coupons for their answers, the highest rating will be given to the one whose answers are most neatly prepared. In the opinion of the judges.

No contestant will be allowed to submit more than one set of answers, which must include not more than 70 or more than 280 coupons with accompanying pictures.

Positively no solution may be sent in to the Contest Editor, and every one of the seventy pictures has been printed. Answers in complete sets, as just specified above, will then be received in this office and should be addressed to "Contest Editor," Booklovers' Contest, Newark, Ohio. The awards will be made strictly according to the correctness of each set of answers, and the correctness shall be determined by the Finding List, the catalogue issued by us as governing the Booklovers' Contest. This catalogue can be obtained from the Advocate office for 25c (27 cents if by mail), and will include in its 5000 titles every one used in the contest. Awards will be announced in this newspaper after the close of the contest.

It is not absolutely necessary to send in solutions on blanks clipped from the Advocate, as duplicate pictures may be drawn by the contestant, if he or she so desires, or duplicate blanks may be obtained at the office of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork, they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headache, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is non-toxic and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent beverage, and no body can make a mistake by taking a little of it daily to keep the kidneys in good active condition.

Read Advocate and it is bought.

U. S. OFFICIALS

in Juarez within a week. It is understood here that he will take charge of an investigation of the Benton case upon his own account.

Upon the character of the wounds found rests proof of Villa's version of the killing. If the body is found riddled with rifle bullets, it will think the story of an execution, and a court-martial will be ordered directed to a point now carefully being investigated as to whether Benton had committed crimes as Villa charges, and was of a disposition to fight with firearms.

Indications were today that the investigation would last for several days with no final judgment until all the facts had been gathered. Officials regard the delivery of the body as of first importance however.

Secretary Bryan visited the White House before going to his office to read overnight dispatches. He made no comment on the situation.

The state department is hopeful that through General Carranza, Villa's superior officer, it can succeed in getting Benton's body. No answer has been received today to representations sent to Carranza yesterday at Noxales. Secretary Bryan declined today to intimate what he would do in the event that Villa persisted in his refusal and Carranza could not be induced to intervene in producing Benton's body.

Discussing possibilities, some of the officials here said there was really no legal obstacle to Brig. General Bliss sending a force of American cavalrymen from the border patrol to recover Benton's body, if it can be located. That such would be an act of war, which must first be authorized by congress, was denied by such officials. They pointed to President Wilson's declaration that there is at present no government in Mexico.

The 800 marines already on battle-ships in Mexican waters will be reinforced by three hundred sailing from Pensacola, Fla., on the transport Prairie, probably next Sunday. Secretary Daniels explained that the Prairie was being sent to Vera Cruz solely to provide accommodations for marines or already overboarded battleships.

Secretary Daniels said today that no orders had been issued for the landing of a guard for the American Embassy at Mexico City, and that no request for such a force had been received at the department.

White House officials after Secretary Bryan had left, made this explanation of the status of the inquiry for Benton's body:

"Two dispatches were received yesterday, one from Consul Agent Carothers, saying Villa would not permit a view of the body at this time but would do so later. That message came during the afternoon.

Late last night a message was received from Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, who had been in personal conference with Villa. He reported Villa was willing to have the widow and relatives of Benton see the body when it was exhumed and that their visit would be permitted in the presence of representatives to be designated by the American government.

The change in General Villa's attitude as reflected in these two messages, it was said, was the result of representations by the United States that his attitude was not satisfactory.

The United States will design an army surgeon as one of its representatives and an examination of the body will be made according to White House officials.

While apparently satisfied that an opportunity for medical examination of the corpse has been made, the latest representations to Villa was a request that after the examination the body be delivered to the widow for burial wherever she may desire.

Later dispatches from Consul Letcher said General Villa had given assurances that he would endeavor to locate the ten Americans who he says he rejected as recruits for his army. Villa says when he offered them a special train to Juarez they preferred to remain in Chihuahua. He added that he had no record of their names but would try to get one.

There are no Americans in prison at Chihuahua, according to the consul's report. General Villa reiterated to Letcher that Gustav Bauch had not been brought to Chihuahua and that he knew nothing about him. The American consul has protested against any summary action being taken against Bauch if he is apprehended by the constitutionalists.

Charles O'Shaughnessy reported today that John Hinnant, a cattle man from Helbronville, Texas, who has been taken into custody by the federalists had been liberated at Saltillo. He added that there was no fear entertained with regard to an American

POISONS THAT IRRITATE

When the delicate machinery of the body is not working harmoniously, poisons are retained that should be expelled. These are accumulations in the tissues and cause irritation. Should this irritation affect joints or muscles you have rheumatism; if a nerve becomes inflamed you have neuralgia.

But if the system is kept toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and no body poisons are retained, backache, neuralgia, rheumatism and other ailments will be a thing of the past.

The lowering of the tone of the system which poisons retain is the chief cause of weakness. Weakness is always present, and it is a perspective and fatigue, easily, making of the body, backache, passing water, nervousness, weak back, dizziness, and loss of sleep. These conditions Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the tissues. In this way the general health is improved, the appetite increased, and new vitality and energy are gained.

These pills are sold by all druggists. Send to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a book "Building Up the Blood."

named Benavides, for whose safety anxiety was felt.

Difficulties in the way of obtaining a complete medical examination of the body of William S. Benton, British subject, appeared today to complicate the inquiry instituted by both the American and British governments into the circumstances surrounding the recent execution at Juarez.

American officials were not sure that a promise of General Villa to permit an American representative to see the body after it was exhumed meant that an opportunity would be afforded to examine it and determine whether Benton died by a pistol shot, as his friends claimed, or by rifle bullets fired by a squad as Villa asserts.

That the American government's direct request for the delivery of the body had been denied was another phase of the situation which attracted attention in the official circles. It is believed further representations to General Villa, indicating the importance of turning the body over to the widow will be made by the state department.

The latest dispatches sent by Marion Letcher, American consul at Chihuahua as announced by the state department said:

"Villa declines to deliver Benton's body, but will permit widow or relatives to visit cemetery with American representative that for their benefit he will order exhumation of body which will then be re-interred in grave from which it is removed.

The promise of the American government to Great Britain as cabled from London was that every effort would be made to secure the examination of the body. Though General Villa has seemed to comply with the request that the body be exhumed, there is nothing as yet in the dispatches to the state department to indicate that he will permit examination of it for purposes of evidence.

Other overnight developments were the surrender to the constitutionalists of the federal sunboat Tampico, giving them their first naval equipment on the west coast of Mexico, and reports of the hanging by Mexican federalists at Nuevo Laredo of Clemente Vergara an American citizen.

Secretary Bryan had arranged to go before the Senate foreign relations committee during the day when it was expected he would be asked to give information concerning the Benton episode and other details of the Mexican situation.

BRITISH CONSUL FROM GALVESTON EXPECTED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 25.—Interest in the case of William S. Benton, who was executed by General Villa at Juarez eight days ago, centered today in the arrival of Charles Perceval, British consul at Galveston who was expected here today to make a thorough investigation. His efforts to find out just how Benton was killed, it was expected, would bring a definite statement from General Villa at Chihuahua as to what may be done with the body.

Reports of Villa's intentions were vague and varied last night, ranging from a flat refusal to deliver the body, to permission to relatives to visit the grave. It was reported also that he would permit an examination of the body later.

HANGING OF THE AMERICAN HAS BEEN CONFIRMED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Laredo, Texas, Feb. 25.—Official confirmation of the hanging of Clemente Vergara, American citizen, by Mexican federalists near Hidalgo, Mexico, was received today by United States Consul Garrett at Nuevo Laredo. The report said Vergara's body is still lying three miles from Hidalgo. Consul Garrett immediately left Nuevo Laredo for the scene.

A Kidney Remedy That Has Thousands of Friends

I believe Dr. Kilmer & Company of Binghamton, N. Y., manufacture one of the best medicines for the kidneys, liver and blood, called "Swamp-Root" ever produced, and I take pleasure in recommending it to others.

After trying several remedies for the kidneys and liver trouble, which apparently had taken on chronic form, I was urged to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a fair trial and wrote for a trial bottle, which was promptly mailed to my address. I was so well pleased with the action of the remedy that I purchased it in five bottle lots and continued taking the remedy until I was fully satisfied that my kidneys and liver were restored to a healthy condition.

Prior to accepting this remedy I was almost daily afflicted with hemorrhage from the nose which physicians were unable to check or prescribe a remedy for, unquestionably caused by the condition of my kidneys, my heart at times affected, my stomach and other organs in sympathy, all of which have been completely restored to a normal condition. I weigh fifteen pounds more than I did three years ago, the result of complying with the printed directions found with a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

I have been in the railway service for the past forty years and have been a resident of this city for the past twenty-three years.

Very truly yours,
E. B. PITNEY.

RILEY WILSON IS BACK AGAIN IN VAUDEVILLE

The many local friends of Riley Wilson will be surprised to learn that he has again entered vaudeville. Mr. Wilson several years ago devoted a couple of seasons to work on the Keith circuit. Riley, as he is familiarly called by all who know him, participated for the past two years in the Newark Elk minstrel. He was given an urgent invitation again this year but a letter from him today from the hotel Longacre in New York City, to Bernice Wingerter, gives the reason for his non-appearance. He states that the invitation had finally caught up with him after a merry chase through the mails of Uncle Sam, and reached him at Philadelphia, where Mr. Wilson closed a week's engagement last Saturday night. Riley wished to be remembered "to the bunch" and expressed regret at not being able to visit Newark during the minstrel last week.

Mr. Wilson, who is known from coast to coast, is one of the most versatile entertainers in the country, and his services have always been in demand, especially at Elk social sessions and press club entertainments, several of which have national reputations. The Philadelphia Evening Telegram of Saturday, pays Mr. Wilson the following compliment:

"Another bright spot in the events of the past week was the appearance at the annual Night in Bohemia, given by the Pen and Pencil club, of Riley Wilson, who hails from West Virginia, and whose Southern dialect stories are far the most entertaining ever heard here. Wilson knows a fund of good stories and his manner of telling them makes him just the sort of an entertainer that would add to the quality of any high class vaudeville bill. George Ade and other friends of Wilson have induced him to enter vaudeville and the prediction of those who heard him the other night is that his name will soon be known wherever good, clean, high class entertainment is appreciated. More Wilsons and fewer tango dancers would be appreciated by the present-day patrons of vaudeville."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's Drug Store.

34 TRESPASSERS KILLED BY TRAINS DURING JANUARY

Columbus, Feb. 25.—"Trespassers not allowed on the railroad right of way."
Thirty-four persons failed to heed such signs and paid their lives during the month of January, in Ohio, according to a report of fatal railway accidents issued today by the state public utilities commission. More than half of the sixty-one fatalities were to trespassers who, disregarding safety signs at crossings where they took the "short cut" and "walked the tracks."
Twenty-three of the persons killed by railroads during the month were employees. Only one was killed by being hit by a train at a road crossing. Three met death on the right of way in other ways than being hit by a train.

Theaters

Winifred St. Claire.
It is indeed a revelation to see a stock organization like the Winifred St. Claire company, now showing at the Auditorium for the entire week, each day set forth a gem in theatricals, not only from an artistic standpoint, but a dramatic one as well. It is without doubt the most evenly balanced company that has ever appeared in this city in repertoire, and produces nothing but the best and highest priced dramatic successes available. In every instance so far the plays offered have lacked nothing in production that the original companies carried with them at $1.50 prices. Tonight the management is giving away $25.00 in gold, that is it is giving away ten awards of a $2.50 gold piece. All persons attending tonight will have a chance to secure an award irrespective of the price they paid for admittance. On Thursday night will be what they call country store night. At this performance the company gives away $25.00 worth of merchandise. It is very funny to see them hand out different things to the audience.

Tonight's offering is a very sweet and pretty little drama entitled "The Girl from Yonder." This play was the vehicle by which Adelaide Thurston won such a reputation. Thursday matinee, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" will be repeated and tomorrow night "Lena Rivers." The company will continue to play daily matinees the remainder of the week. The matinee prices to be 10c straight for children and 20 and 30c for adults.

"The Yellow Passport."
"The Yellow Passport" a photo-play, appearing at the Auditorium next Sunday matinee and night, has enjoyed as much popularity in the picture world as "Within the Law." "The Third Degree" or any of the season's successes have on the legitimate stage. Unlike the production of a play on the theater stage, where they are crowded for room, they have the area to produce this sensational drama even to every detail. The studios all over the country have so perfected their facilities for immense productions that their labors bring forth results that make it appear natural to the observer. This photo-play is not a feature picture but a wonderfully interesting drama. As an added feature their will be two comedy pictures in connection, making it an almost entire evening's entertainment.

Georgia Minstrels.
What promises to be one of the treats of the season is the coming of Richard and Pringle's famous Georgia Minstrel show. This season's organization is said to be of the very best talent obtainable and will consist of the highest grade minstrel features of novelty and merit. The artists have been selected with exceptional care and each performer is a guaranteed minstrel star of the first magnitude. It contains new rare novelties and a lot of new jokes. The Royal Arabian Acrobats are a splendid feature, second to none of their kind in the country. The company, consists of over forty people, all stars in their respective lines. In fact it is an event in the minstrel line.

Dual Fight of Workmen's Compensation

The campaign of misrepresentation that has been made against the present state administration dates back to the time that the general assembly enacted a workmen's compensation act that speedily provided sufficient compensation to sufferers from industrial accidents, instead of a law that would enable liability insurance companies to earn big dividends. The companies raised a "yellow dog" fund to manufacture opposition to other measures for trading purposes and the reactionary Republican state executive committee proved a ready ally.

The workmen's compensation act which caused all the rumpus has been in operation several months. It hasn't been a money maker for the liability insurance companies and it has not given much political capital for the standpat G O P committee, as the following cases, typical of conditions throughout the state show:

Joe Joswink, of Toledo, who was struck by a piece of steel and killed, left a widow, who was a few days ago awarded $3744 payable at the rate of $6 00 per week for the next six years.

The widow of Raymond Wheeler of Barberton who fell from a scaffold, was allowed $3,307 20 payable at the rate of $9 60 per week for the next six years.

February 9, John Magill, of Mt. Vernon, fell from a crane at the plant of the Mt. Vernon Bridge Co., and eight days afterward, Mrs. Magill and her eight fatherless children were allowed $2,458 56 payable at the rate of $7 88 a week for the next six years.

This paper could be filled with such awards. Such payments have driven the wolf from the doors of widows and orphans in our own county.

What would have happened if the liability insurance companies and their allies, the reactionary G O P committee had won their fight? The people remunerated above, without a court fight and no delay, would today be pitting their puny resources against the powerful strength of the liability insurance companies in distressing court battles.

The standpat Republican state executive committee forced the Republican minority in the general assembly to ask for the mutilation of the state liquor license law and the repeal of the Warnes tax law. It remains to be seen whether the standpat leaders of the G O P can induce the rank and file of their party to travel backwards instead of forwards.

Need for a stronger educational system is amply demonstrated by the ludicrous misapprehension of Republican calamity shouters of the details of the general appropriation bill. These simpletons are attacking a law relating to fees which was in operation before they were dry behind the ears, under the delusion that it relates to taxation.

Democrats have earned $900,000 interest on deposits of state money, since the Republican grafters were turned out. Put them back and the interest earnings on these deposits will go to the credit of individuals instead of the public.

Machine politics never provides for the widows and orphans of those killed in industrial accidents, such as has the present state administration through the workmen's compensation act.

Machine politics robs the state treasury to enrich individuals and to build skyscrapers. We had a sample when the Republican party ruled the state treasury. Keep the grafters out.

Will the rank and file follow the standpat Republican state executive committee in its fight on the little red school house in the country?

Imagine Abraham Lincoln fighting against the betterment of country schools.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 25.—[Special]—Several of the younger members of the senate have renewed the agitation for open executive sessions to consider nominations for public office. All new senators have an idea that this would be a good senatorial reform, but there is always a large majority that has become "elder statesmen," and they are strong enough to prevent such an innovation.

The demand for open sessions comes about because of the discussion of men who are up for confirmation. It has always been held that charges against men should not be made public and their records blasted in such a way. The new members who are now supporting a change of plan say that no man should allow his name to come before the senate for confirmation if his record will not bear discussion in the open light of day.

Treaties Behind Closed Doors.

It has always been held absolutely necessary to discuss and vote upon treaties with foreign nations behind closed doors. That is one of the traditions that have been handed down from the olden times, and it is because it is deemed unsafe to discuss our foreign relations in the open. It sounds rather queer, too, that a treaty with a foreign nation which affects all our people should be negotiated and ratified in secret and that the people of the country should not know either the contents of the treaty or the necessity for its negotiation or the benefits or disadvantages it may contain.

There is no doubt that nearly every nation that has made a treaty with us has secured the better terms, and this might not have happened if the treaties had been considered in open session and public discussion upon them had been unchecked and intelligent.

The Owen Bill.

The Owen bill to prevent stock gambling is causing little agitation in the senate, as no one believes it will pass. Many men are for it, but they don't want it. Many men say they want to stop stock gambling, but they are against this bill just as they have been against every other bill of a similar character. It reminds one of the Baltimore convention, when there were so many men for Champ Clark who did not want him nominated.

Senator Lewis' Memory.

Senator Chilton was exhibiting a lump of gold to a few senators the other day and when asked if it came from West Virginia, his state, he replied in the negative, but said that it came from a mine in North Carolina in which he was interested. The lump contained $100 worth of pure gold.

"The first suit in relation to mining," said J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, "came up in the supreme court from North Carolina. It was a question whether the government or the state or the individual owned the minerals in the land." And then the Illinois senator told the titles of the different cases, their numbers, the books and pages where they were recorded and printed. These marvelous feats of memory on the part of Senator Lewis are known only to his intimates.

A Familiar Red Tie.

In all the soubriety of the funeral services over Senator Bacon there flashed in the senate a brilliant red tie. Those who remember Joe Blackburn when he was the vigorous senator from Kentucky spotted that tie at once and were not surprised to see Joe's rugged features above it. Joe Blackburn's red tie was as much discussed at one time as Jim Ham Lewis' clothes in later years.

Interesting Bit of Paper.

The day Senator Bristow opened the debate on Panama canal tolls Senator Smoot held possession of an interesting bit of paper. It contained the names of those who voted for and those who voted against the proposition to have free tolls for the coastwise shipping passing through the Panama canal. Senator Smoot did not read the names of those voting but his desk was visited by nearly every senator who wanted to see how that vote stood. No doubt the names will be presented when the debate is upon the bill and it is found that men who were for the bill a few years ago have changed their attitude.

Will Miss Asher Hinder.

General regret is expressed that Asher C. Hinds will not remain in congress for this term. He is going to quit public life on account of ill health. Hinds came to Washington first when Tom Reed was elected speaker in 1891 and has been in the house in one capacity or another most of the time since, the exception being the four years that the Democrats were in control twenty years ago. Hinds is regarded as one of the best parliamentarians in the country.

TREAT CHILDREN'S COLDS EXTERNALLY

Don't dose the delicate little stomach with harmful internal medicines. Vick's Vapo-Rub Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied externally over the throat and chest. The body heat releases soothing antiseptic vapors that are inhaled all night long, loosening the croup phlegm and opening up the air passages. For all inflammations of the air passages from head colds and catarrh, down to bronchitis and incipient pneumonia, Vick's is quicker than internal medicines. Can be used freely with perfect safety, on the smallest child. At druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Uncle Walt

Finding Fault.

The kicking game will bring you fame unpleasant, grim and ghostly, so call a halt if finding fault is what you're doing mostly. Some men seem born discontented, forlorn, then nothing ever pleases. In every cause they find the flaws, the spavins and diseases. They kick at home and when they roam about the town they grumble, and every talk they make's a knock, scare, they scowl, they hoot, they howl, at every forward movement; they hurt the town, and hold it down, and balk at each improvement.

There is a trail of woe and wall wherever they're gallivanting, the booster hates such moldy skates and thinks they should be planted. They are a bore, the town grows sore beneath their ceaseless wiggings, the band will play some music gay when they have skipped the diggings. Just look around and note, cogs would! how much the crouch is hated, then make a vow to clear your brow, and keep your bile abated. So call a halt if finding fault is now your daily pastime, let out a roar just one time more, and let that be the last time! (Copyright 1913 by G. M. Adams.)

LOCAL WOMAN NOW A BIG ADVERTISER

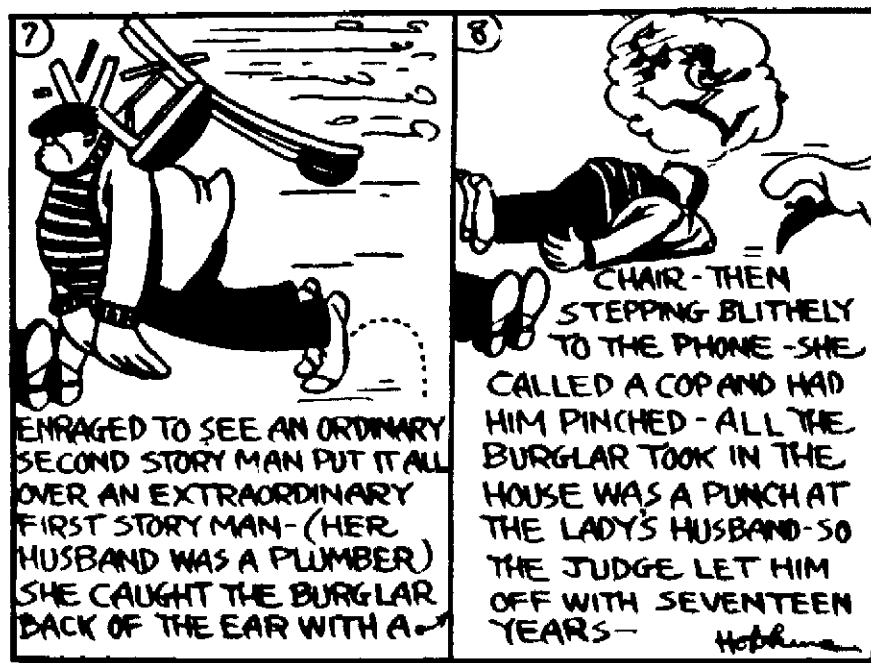

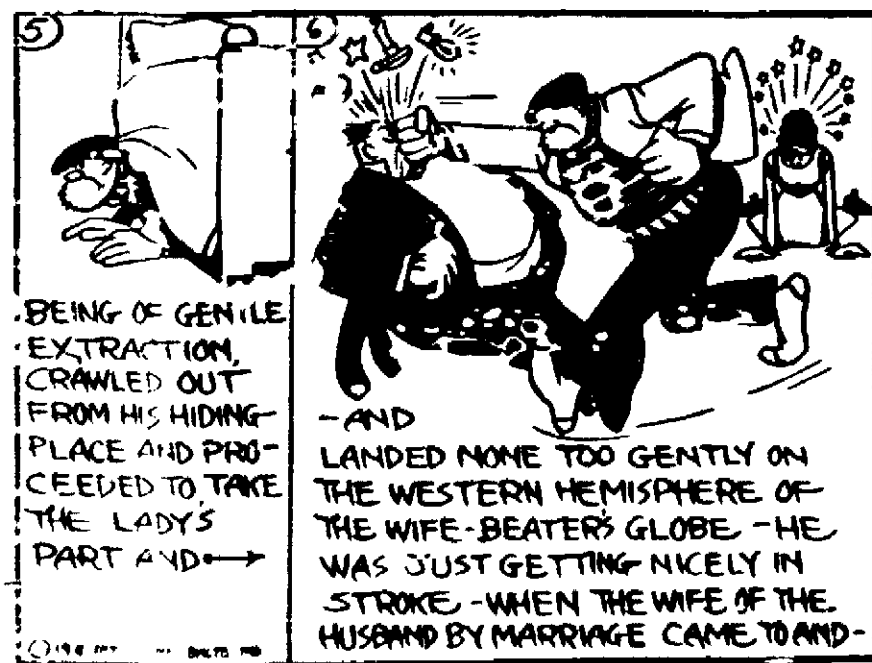

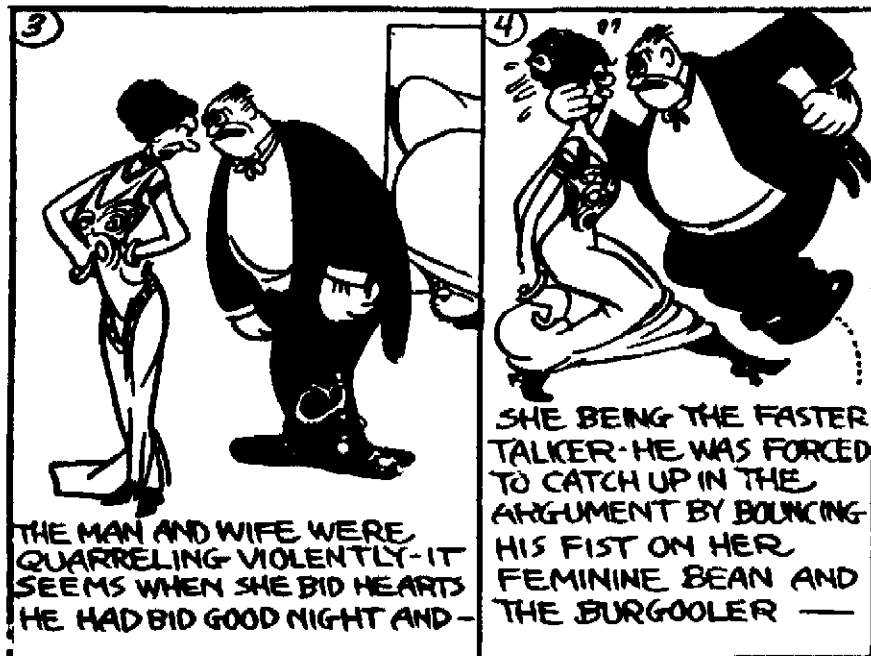

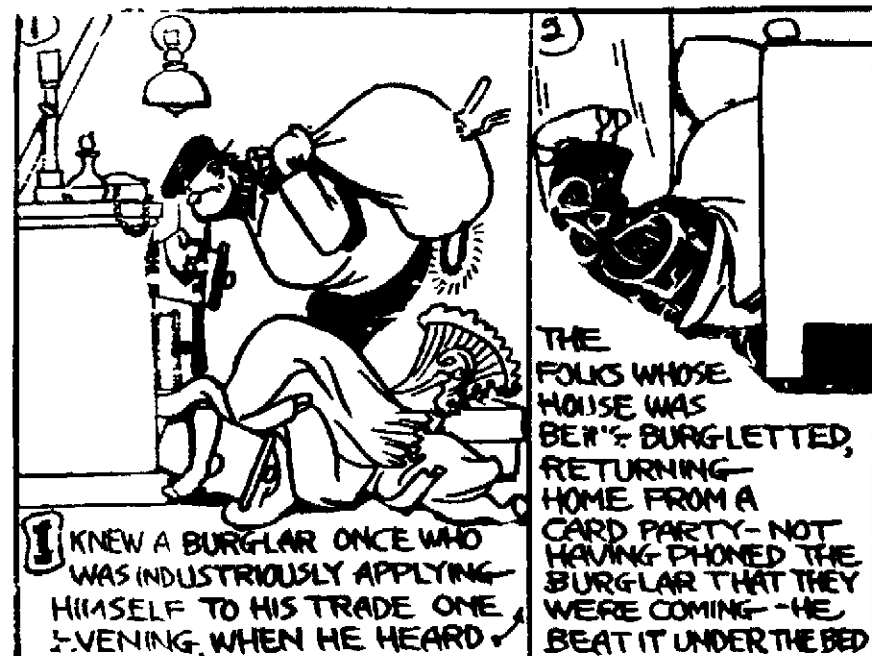

When one of our women customers recently bought five bottles of Harmony Hair Beautifier to give to her friends for Christmas, she started all by herself a mighty big advertising campaign, because not only does each one of the women to whom she gave a bottle of Beautifier now consider it indispensable for the proper care of the hair, but each of them has been the means of getting several of her friends to use it. As a consequence, if things keep on in this way for a few months longer, we will be selling more of it than of all other hair preparations combined. Sprinkle a little Harmony Hair Beautifier on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil, will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us, Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square, Newark, Ohio.

SOME WOMEN LOVE TO HAVE THEIR FEEDING HAND BITTEN

BOTH OF THESE WOMEN OWE HEALTH TO PERUNA.

Mrs. O. D. Robinson, No. 38 St. Felix St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I have taken Peruna and it did me more good than all my two years treatment by special physicians. I can really say that I feel like another person. No more swollen feet and limbs. No more bloating of the abdomen. No more shortness of breath. No more stiff and sore joints."

MRS. O. D. ROBINSON.

sands and hundreds of thousands of people have been and are great sufferers from sick headache. But this is the point in the testimonial that ought to create a great deal of attention. She says: "I am now entirely free from sick headache." And she gives the credit to Peruna and Mananin.

Read this, you great multitude of women and men also, who have been for years victims of sick headache. If you do not believe it is true write Miss Bogardus and find out the truth. Every one interested in the subject of sick headache should read the article on page 18 of the "Iris of Life." Address Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio. Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

—AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

OUCH! PAIN, PAIN, RUB RHEUMATISM AWAY WITH OIL

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.

Linger up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

Society

A meeting of the Investigators club was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Otis Morse in Fulton avenue. The following program was carried out:

Roll call—Answered by items of interest.

The Weather Bureau—Miss Gray. Governmental Agriculture—Mrs. Long.

The New Administration—Prepared by Mrs. Sachs, read by Mrs. Gibson. Critic—Mrs. Postle.

The club adjourned to meet with Miss Gray on March second.

Miss Marguerite Swern very delightfully entertained the members of the O. M. C. Sewing club Saturday afternoon at her home in North Cedar street. A short business meeting was held in the early part of the afternoon.

All responded to the roll call except Margaret Walker, who was ill. Laura Dial and Cora Young were appointed as a flower committee. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in needlework, after which a dainty two course luncheon was served to the members of the club and the following guests: Mrs. Carl Reinhold and Mrs. Sarah Swern.

The club adjourned to meet with Miss Mary Walker, March 7th at her home in Buena Vista street.

The annual dinner dance was given on Tuesday evening by St. Luke's Commandery, Knights Templar, at Assembly Hall, and the formality of the full uniform of the Knights, added dignity to the occasion, while the handsome gowns worn by ladies beautified the event. The banquet was served in the dining room at 7 o'clock, and a delicious turkey dinner was on the menu.

Following the dinner, the grand march started at 9 o'clock, led by Eminent Commander A. L. Rawlings and Mrs. Rawlings. Dancing continued throughout the evening, the dance program being furnished by Marsh's orchestra. The small reception room was fitted up for a number of the Knights and their ladies who did not dance.

The Busy Bee Embroidery club gave a very pleasant surprise party for Miss Maude Weiss last Thursday, celebrating her birthday at the home of Mrs. Ora Weiss. Miss Weiss received a number of very pretty gifts and after the hearty greetings were over a very delightful afternoon was spent in games and various contests, after which a delicious two course luncheon was served to the guests and members of the club.

The Women's Federated clubs will hold a meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Taylor Hall.

Miss Mary Roach delightfully entertained the members of the Kensington club on Tuesday evening at her home in Elmwood avenue. The hours were devoted to needlework and a delicious luncheon was served. The table was arranged to harmonize with the Washington Birthday celebration, and the favors were miniature hatchets. The guest of the club was Miss Sarah Kyle of Montrose, Colo.

RADWELL—YOUNG.

On Monday-afternoon at 3 o'clock was solemnized the marriage of Miss Ina May Young to Mr. Elmer Radwell. The wedding took place at the parsonage of the U. B. church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. B. Cox. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Young, while the groom's best man was Mr. Clarence Fox. Mr. and Mrs. Radwell will make their home in Newark.

Mrs. Charles Van Voorhis gave a surprise party at her home in Linden avenue Wednesday evening, honoring the birthdays of Mr. Van Voorhis and Mrs. W. E. Van Voorhis. The evening was spent in games, after which a dainty two course luncheon was served the following persons:

Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Van Voorhis, Ernest Long, G. W. Hackney, H. T. Wright, G. R. Hackney, Mrs. Clinton Van Voorhis, Mrs. Laura Dickey, Misses Alice Benson, Emma May Long, Marguerite and Helen Van Rensselaer, Misses Mary Van Voorhis, Ross Dickey, Weldon Dickey, Master Glenn and Ralph Wright, Paul and Carl Hackney. Mrs. Van Voorhis was assisted by Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Hackney.

The regular meeting of the Cotarie club to be held at the home of Mrs. Stevenson has been postponed indefinitely.

Mrs. C. H. Warner was the gracious hostess of the Unity Reading circle on Tuesday afternoon at her home in Vine street. The program:

Quotations—Patriotic. Navigation—Mrs. Bell. Arctic and Antarctic Exploration—Mrs. Clunis.

Critic—Mrs. Loudin.

A delightful social session followed the program and Mrs. Warner served an elaborate collation to the club members and her twelve guests, who were Mesdames Cary Norris, J. S. Oxley, Sam Sachs, A. S. Stephan, B. L. Evans, Ida Chase, Fred Warner, Tenney Reese, and Misses Besse Glenn, Margaret Lisey, Clara Lisey and Martha Sachs.

Mrs. George Eberley entertained the members of her card club on Tuesday afternoon at her Granville street home. A delicious incheon was served Mrs. Eberley's guests.

Exceptionally pretty was the home of Miss Frances Hayes in its decorations of pink and green on Monday evening when she entertained the members of F. W. W. club with a delicious six course dinner. The table looked very pretty with its center piece of pink rose buds and sweet peas amid smilax and ferns. After dinner a short business meeting was held, after which the members attended the performance of Winifred St. Clair in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

The members present were: Misses Nettie Priest, Mary Sullivan, Mary Ruff, Florence Buckley, Ted Ruff, Blanche Tanner, Minnie Beck, Anna Hutson, Helen Dial, Myrtle Bryson, Nellie Floyd, and the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Anna Hutson in Rosebud avenue.

On Saturday afternoon the members of the C. of I. G. met at the home of Miss Lillian Braun in Wilson street. The hours were spent in needle work, after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

Those present were Misses Lillian Ruff, Catherine Slavick, Esther Wilson, Mary Cereb, Viola Strepler, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Esther Nicolin in Riley street.

GRAFF—HOHL.

George Graff, retired baker, who for many years operated his place of business adjoining his residence in West Main street, corner of Fourth, was united in marriage to Elizabeth M. Hohl of Newark, by Rev. G. Bonhom Schmitt, in the parsonage of St. Paul's English Lutheran church at 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

The bride and groom were accompanied by Miss Anna Hohl and Mr. John Hohl, sister and brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Graff will make their home in the West Main street residence.

DR. MONTGOMERY TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY EVENING

PIMPY? WELL DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you longer if you will get a box of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the successful substitute for calomel—there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10 c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

Granville

Granville, Feb. 25.—The local circle of The King's Daughters will serve supper in the parlors of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30. The supper will be given on the order of a selfserve affair which method is so successful in our larger cities. The proceeds will be used for charity purpose. At present urgent applications have been received from the county secretary of The King's Daughters, for clothing which was very much in demand by Zanesville sufferers. The members of the local circle have worked hard for the success of the supper and not only should the public attend to secure a good meal, but also to aid the organization in their charitable work.

The second number of the Granville music course was given Tuesday evening at Rectal Hall.

Mrs. Van Dorn, who was operated upon at the Sanatorium in Newark three weeks ago returned to Granville today. She is improving rapidly.

Miss Laura Boyle left today for Cleveland where she will purchase her spring supply of millinery.

Mrs. Minnie B. Kerr entertained with a four course dinner today in honor of Mrs. Mary King of Pataskala, who is visiting here for a few days.

The regular Monday meeting of the Travelers club was postponed this week because of the inclement weather. The same program which was to have been presented this week will be given at the next session.

The Denison Glee club will sing at Pataskala Saturday night.

Mrs. T. L. Montgomery of Coshocton, who has been visiting Mrs. E. T. Johnson and Mrs. Ida Chase, returned to her home on Tuesday.

DEATH CLAIMS ONE OF NEWARK'S OLDEST CITIZENS

Newark lost one of its best known and oldest citizens on Tuesday night when death claimed John McCarthy of North Sixth street, who died very suddenly, although he had been in failing health since last August.

Mr. McCarthy was always one of Newark's foremost citizens, his family being among the early settlers here, and he was for a number of years a well known business man, being in the grocery business for 25 years and was a director and president of the first building association ever organized in Newark. Later in life he engaged in the insurance business of Irish parentage he possessed many lovely characteristics which won for him innumerable friends.

The deceased was born in County Cork, Ireland in the year 1837, and when but five weeks old his parents brought him to this country landing at Nova Scotia. Later they went to Rochester, N. Y. and from there came to Newark by way of the canal in 1841. They settled here and Mr. McCarthy learned the molders trade at the Thomas foundry. He followed his trade for a time and later engaged in the grocery business in which he was very successful, continuing in this business for about 25 years, he later entered the insurance business.

On April 29, 1863, he married Catherine Wehrle, and to this union one child, Mary was born. His wife died April 16, 1866, and on October 27, 1868, he was united in marriage with Ada Koos. To this union six children were born, four of whom are living, Henry, Eugene, Loretta and Mercedes, three of these are at the home, while Miss Mary McCarthy lives in Gallipolis. Mrs. McCarthy died August 22, 1898.

Mr. McCarthy has been actively engaged in the insurance business until within the last few months, when his health began to fail. He had been in his usual health, however, on Tuesday, and his death at 1:30 last night came as a distinct shock. He had celebrated his 77 birthday anniversary on last Sunday. The deceased has been a life long member of St. Francis de Sales church, and his family was among its first members. No arrangements have been made for the funeral services.

SURPRISED BY BROTHERS OF APES ORDER

In the neighborhood of forty members of the Order of Apes tendered a complete surprise on Henry Fitzsimmons, in his home, 65 Ash street, Tuesday night, in honor of his birthday anniversary last week.

The evening was spent in enjoyment of the usual diversions congenial to stag gatherings, and concluded with a Dutch lunch. An informal program of jokes and songs added zest to the affair.

Women as Food Inspectors.

The chairman of the sanitation committee of the Louisiana State Federation of Women's clubs, Miss Agnes Morris, is urging the club women to make inspection of markets and bakeries. She hopes that in time "the board of health may recognize women as volunteer inspectors and give them official standing in this work."

In the state of Washington, where women vote, Mrs. Coralia Bartlett Crane found women serving as food inspectors in many cities. "To this fact mainly," she wrote to the Woman's Journal, "I attribute the notably advanced standards of food protection in those cities."

She also found that a former president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. R. C. McCredie, had been appointed on the state board of health and was proving herself "indefatigable and efficient." Dr. Harvey W. Wiley says that if there were no other argument for woman suffrage, the better enforcement of the pure food laws would be reason enough.

STATE LICENSE TAGS RECEIVED BY AUTO OWNERS

Newark people today received automobile license tags from the state department at Columbus but it is difficult to determine who received the first tag. Benjamin Pendleton of North Fourth street received tag number 1457 about 10 o'clock Wednesday. Julius Juch, publisher of the German Express received tag number 1458 at 11 o'clock. Others received tags during the day.

FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Brewster Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

Obituary

Mrs. Henry Kreitz.

Mrs. W. A. Tomlinson of East Main street was called to Shawnee on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Henry Kreitz who died Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock of Bright's disease. Mrs. Kreitz has many friends in Newark who will be grieved to hear of her death. The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in K. of P. hall at Shawnee.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Margaret Metz and family wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy in the loss of our beloved son and brother. We also wish to extend our thanks to the trainmen, C. M. A. Loyal Order of Moose, and the churches for their kindness in our time of sorrow and for their beautiful flowers. The men with their teams at Irville will long be remembered for their help in the burial of our loved one.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD MEETING

The Men's Brotherhood of the Central Church of Christ held a very interesting session Tuesday evening.

A. B. Painter is chairman of the Brotherhood and A. G. Parker, secretary. An excellent program was rendered. A. R. Armstrong spoke on "Ideal Men of the Present Time." O. C. Larson on "Patriotic Ideals of Our Forefathers," and F. C. Hoover on "Ideals of Our National Men's Movement." Rev. Ward, Dr. Priest and others took part in the meeting, the general theme being the "Observance of Washington's Anniversary." Messrs. Larson, Keckley and Burrell are members of the program committee, and the merits of capital punishment may be the subject of the next meeting.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

An Inheritance We Give.

"If we were truly just, or rather, really merciful, we would punish crimes against the unborn more stringently than we do those against the living, wouldn't we?" meditatively mused the Bachelor Girl.

"It would be a sort of shooting in the dark, wouldn't it? How could we? How would we know we were hitting the mark?" replied the Bachelor.

"Oh, we could do it easily enough if we wanted to. I have just been reading some statistics on feeble-mindedness. It is increasing terribly, and one of the chief causes of it is drunkenness. Drunkenness could be prevented. And is there anything more deliberately cruel than to fasten this terrible affliction upon a helpless little child? That's the reason I say there ought to be punishment for crimes against the unborn. The living can defend themselves against those who would injure them. But the unborn have no show whatever."

"How could we do it?"

"There are laws to govern or prevent the sale of poisons that kill. Why couldn't there be laws to prevent the sale of intoxicants and stimulants and drugs that have as bad, if not worse, an effect. One is called murder. But what is the other? It is worse than murder. And it not only kills a feeble-mindedness and such ill upon the absolutely helpless, but it is the cause, direct or indirect, of nearly all the crime and poverty from which society suffers. And yet the most of us are perfectly quiescent in the matter. In fact, we aid and abet the evil. For we earnestly press these things upon people, as if we were giving them some great good. Many of us offer them in some form at meals, or upon social occasions, or else we give them as a relief or remedy for some ill. At any rate, we have a friendly regard for them, or act as if we did, when we ought to see what an enemy they are, and treat them as we would a rattlesnake or any other harmful or deadly thing."

"I guess our viewpoint in regard to them really is wrong," reflected the Bachelor.

"It certainly seems to me that way," earnestly responded the Bachelor Girl. "Whenever I see a building being fixed up with gilt and colored glass and everything attractive for the purpose of selling those inferior things, I think how can we stand by calmly and permit a place to be made, right under our eyes, for the breeding of crime and poverty and suffering. For that is just what it is. Out from those swinging doors come murder, and theft, and sickness, and hunger, and feeble-mindedness, and almost every evil and sorrow humanity knows. And we say nothing, and do nothing. We won't let those things that kill quickly be sold so easily, so why should we let the things that kill slowly and bring a lot of other evils in their slow murdering? That's what I can't understand. We are supposed to govern ourselves for the benefit of the governed, that is, for the benefit of ourselves. But surely we haven't much sense of what is of benefit to us, as we are awfully short-sighted."

"It does seem that way," admitted the Bachelor. "But perhaps more be educated to see it this way, before you can hope for much improvement."

"But I shouldn't think they'd need any education. Can't they see it for themselves, if they use their eyes and their brains? Why is it that it takes people so long to better conditions, when they themselves are to benefit by the betterment. To consider it merely economically, and leave out all questions of humanity, to wipe out crime and poverty and feeble-mindedness is to wipe out jails and poor houses and charitable institutions, and think what a lessening of taxes that would be."

"It will come in time," soothed the Bachelor.

"Speed the time," fervently said the Bachelor Girl. "And let's do all we can to help speed it."

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using this simple recipe. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 oz. glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.

Human Procession

Newfoundland, famed for its fish and its dogs, has produced many statesmen of great ability, but few have gained greater fame beyond the confines of the colony than the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond, the former premier, who last month announced his withdrawal from public life. He was born in Torquay, Eng., 57 years ago today, and was descended from an old family of that Devonshire which is so familiar to all readers of Eden Phillpotts. His father, John Bond, for more than half a century conducted a large mercantile business in St. John's, the Newfoundland capital. The future statesman was educated for the law, but entered politics before he was called to the bar. He entered the legislature in 1882, became speaker of the house of assembly two years later, and at the age of 32 became an executive councillor with the portfolio of colonial secretary.

Early in his career Sir Robert became prominent in international affairs, and was especially conspicuous in negotiations concerning the Newfoundland fisheries. In 1890 he was appointed to assist Lord Pauncefoot in negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the United States, and he was largely instrumental in completing what is known as the Blaine-Bond convention. In 1892 he reopened negotiations for reciprocal trade between Newfoundland and the United States, and concluded the Har-Bond treaty, which was rejected by the United States senate. He became premier of Newfoundland in 1900, and was knighted the following year. His ability won wide recognition in the mother country, where in 1907 he was given the freedom of the city of London, Bristol and Manchester.

King Wilhelm of Wurttemberg, who has occupied the throne of that country since 1891, was born sixty-two years ago today. He succeeded his uncle, King Charles I., as the ruler of Wurttemberg. The king's first wife was Princess Marie of Waldeck, a sister of the Duchess of Albany. She died leaving a daughter, Pauline, who married the reigning Prince Frederick of Weid, whose younger brother, Prince Wilhelm, recently accepted the throne of Albania. After the death of his first spouse, King Wilhelm married Princess Charlotte, a daughter of the reigning Prince Wilhelm of Schaumburg-Lippe. As the king has no male children, the heir to the throne is a distant kinsman, Duke Albert, who married a niece of the Austrian Emperor, and who has three sons. The royal house of Wurttemberg dates from the fifteenth century, when Eberhard I. became the first duke. Duke Frederick II. acquired the title of king in 1807. He supplied a contingent to Napoleon's Russian army, but when the Corsican was in sore straits he turned against him and joined the allies. He was succeeded in 1816 by his son, Wilhelm I., who abolished serfdom and instituted a political constitution and representative government. He reigned for forty-eight years. Charles I. succeeded to the throne half a century ago. His queen, Princess Olga of Russia, came to his heir and when he died in 1891 his nephew, Wilhelm, became king.

Sir George Reid, High Commissioner for Australia in London and former Prime Minister of the commonwealth, was born in Scotland sixty-nine years ago today. Sir George visited America last year as a member of the committee for the celebration of the Anglo-Saxon peace centenary.

TODAY'S BEST MOVING PICTURE STORIES

"CHASING THE SMUGGLERS."

Kalem.

DASHING adventure story, with splendid setting and excellent acting, satisfyingly photographed makes this tale of the California coast worth seeing. It presents a bit of historical local color, too, for the smugglers' boat used in the pictures is the power boat May, which, for many years eluding the government crept around the coasts with forbidden cargoes of opium or Chinese.

Doris is allowed by her brother and her fiancé, Rand, to go on a short aeroplane flight with an army aviator. She discovers while up in the air the activities of smugglers in a low-lying craft out in the bay. She returns with her story and Rand is detailed to investigate the matter.

The smugglers are clever, and although the observers see all the details of smuggling, the traces are neatly covered and Rand is unable to find anything. He follows some of the unwholesome trails of Chinatown, chasing the lawbreakers to their place of concealment, but so perfectly are they concealed that he gives up the hunt and the authorities drop the matter.

The smugglers do not quit, however, and Rand sends Dan, one of his men, away for opium.

Two months later Dan returns and he may be seen with the opium done up in rubber packages tied to wood floats, which he tosses overboard as the ship comes into the harbor. Rand is at the dock to meet Dan, learns the mission is executed, and gives him a roll of bills. It happens too, that Doris and Rand are down to see the ship come in, and the smugglers' conversation is noted by Rand. He immediately starts out in his motor boat to follow the smugglers and Doris goes for her brother and his larger boat to follow Rand.

The smugglers have taken the May out and have gathered up the opium, when they see the small motor boat dashing through the water toward them. Behind the motor boat comes a Penguin with a quick, steady man at the wheel and beside him the frantic Doris alternately watching through the glasses and beseeching for more haste.

Here come a few hundred feet of an exciting experience as may be found wherever in film form. Through the waters these three boats

"YELLOW FLAME."

Bruccho.

Yellow Flame is a Sioux Indian. The film tells the tragic story of his life and death. There are vivid "wild west" pictures.

Yellow Flame is shown returning from a prison where he has served a long term. The kinetoscope then reveals to the incidents that led up to his incarceration.

The Sioux camp is shown and the rivalry of Yellow Flame and Black Feather for Little Fawn revealed. Yellow Flame goes hunting. He is pursuing a wounded bison through a river when Black Feather treacherously shoots him and leaves him to drown. Jim Condon, the sheriff, rescues Yellow Flame, takes him to the settlement and nurses him back to health.

The Sioux go on the war path. The white men are beleaguered and appeal to Yellow Flame to carry a letter asking for relief to a nearby army post. He accepts the commission. Making his way through the Indian lines he is ambushed by Black Feather and shot. The victor searches his rival and finds the note he is carrying to the army post. In the battle which follows he is mortally wounded and drags himself to a cave where he dies.

Yellow Flame revives, but is found by the sheriff, who accuses him of attempting to deliver the white men into the hands of the Sioux. For this he is sent to prison.

Jack Hull, a hunter, follows a huge rattlesnake into a cave. The snake escapes, but Hull finds Black Feather's bones and with them the note the sheriff wrote years before asking for relief. The note is delivered to the sheriff and demonstrates Yellow Flame's innocence.

The sheriff, who has seen the Indian immediately after his release from prison, hurried after him to offer such amends as are possible. He finds Yellow Flame dead on the trail. Consumption acquired during his long incarceration has killed him.

"ONE-TO-THREE."

Ramsey.

This is the story of one evening suit and three young men. All have been invited to the same function and the means of their all accommodating themselves to the one clashing suit presents a problem. How the three youths solve it triumphantly is told in this little comedy.

The three are strolling one afternoon when they come upon a tramp annoying three young women. The boys rescue the girls gallantly. As a reward they are invited to the charity ball. When the great night arrives they face the great clothes problem. It is arranged that each shall wear the rented suit in turn. All the boys attend the ball, but owing to the differences in the size of the wearers the suit is ruined.

When the garments are taken back to the tailor from whom they are rented there is something akin to a riot. The charming daughter of the tailor who happens to be one of the three girls rescued from the tramp is present. She discovers the wearers of the garments are her heroes. Thereupon she prevails on her father to forgive the boys.

"A Working Girl's Romance."

A letter written by a little girl employed as a packer in a glove factory bridges the social chasm which separates her and the spoiled daughter of a millionaire. The result is that two romances are happily.

Nell Goodwin and Bob Templeton are engaged, but the girl has an invalid mother and as Bob cannot support a wife and an invalid mother-in-law she refuses to marry him. Grasping at a frail chance to relieve the situation she writes to "The Prince" telling her sad little story and asking aid.

The letter falls into the hands of Marion Van Brown, an heiress, who has just dismissed her fiancé because he has failed in business. She is touched by the narrative of the missive and goes to the address. She meets Nell, the latter's mother, and Bob and in a moment of tenderness toward them writes a check for $500.

The joy Marion gives is so real that it effects a permanent change in her character and she writes to her bankrupt mother-in-law, calling him back with the announcement that "love is better than money."

"The Sacrifice"—Beauty.

Excellent photographs of sea scenes are shown in this little play. It tells the story of the son of rich parents who commits forgery and of his brother who assumes the burden of his guilt and exiles himself to a colony of Italian father folk. There he marries and a son is born.

Six years later the guilty brother dies confessing his crime and exonerating the exile. A lawyer finds the latter in the fishing town, but he refuses to leave his Italian wife and his mother and her ward, however, prevail upon him to let them take his son away and educate him.

Maria, the wife, sees her husband and his mother's waste together and is overcome by jealousy. Then she realizes she is standing in her husband's way. Obsessed with this idea she rows out to sea and drowns herself.

THE GREATEST BENEFIT FROM BEES.

Estimates, based on reliable data, show that bees in the United States produce $25,000,000 worth of honey and beeswax annually. This amount, if loaded on 40-foot freight cars holding 30,000 pounds each, would make a solid train 50 miles long. From these figures it can be seen that the little bee furnishes the people of this country with an enormous amount of valuable food. However, producing honey and beeswax is not the only function of the bee. The greatest economic value of the bee comes from the part that it plays in the pollination of fruit trees and certain farm crops. Orchardists are especially cognizant of this important factor and many believe that the best crop of apples would be an impossibility without the aid of the bee in helping to distribute the pollen. Two orchardists by the name of Van Rensselaer and Southern leased an old orchard of fifty acres near Cleveland, Ohio. Before they took charge the orchard had yielded almost no return to the owner. Not only did the lessees begin to prune and spray but they had more than 50 colonies of bees put in the orchard, as it was their belief that they could not grow fruit to advantage without bees. In the fall of 1913 they harvested 16,000 bushels of apples. The bees they said, played no small part in producing that excellent crop. Many other more experiences have shown the bee to be responsible for better crops of seed from many farm crops. It's for the part it plays in the pollination of fruits and farm crops that the bee is valued at many times its worth as a producer of honey and beeswax.

Bravery is the feeling that you can whip your opponent.

OHIO WESLEYAN TO CONDUCT MOST NOTABLE HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT EVER HELD

DIRECTOR DIXON. UNIVERSITY HALL (Gray Chapel.) PRESIDENT WELCH. EDWARDS GYMNASIUM.

Delaware, O., Feb. 25.—Edwards Gymnasium at Ohio Wesleyan university is to be the center of interest in high school athletics throughout the state this and next week, because of the fact that 46 teams, representing 36 counties, will contest for the championship of the greatest and largest high school basket ball tournament ever arranged in the United States. Plans for the tournament have been made by Athletic Director F. W. Dixon of Ohio Wesleyan and it forms the seventh of annual high school

The northern teams entered are Ashtabula, Ada, Bowling Green, Bellevue, Bloomville, Bucyrus, Cleveland West High, Crestline, Findlay, Geneva, Lisbon, Pioneer, Waynesfield, Mansfield, Wooster, Wellington, Steubenville, Tiffin, Prospect, Lima, Monroeville, Warren and Napoleon. The southern teams entered are Stivers of Dayton, Aquinas and North High of Columbus, New Carlisle, Nelsonville, St. Clairsville, Hillsboro, Marysville, West Lafayette, Yellow Springs, Newark, Grove City, Marietta, New Lexington, Delaware, Ansonia, Lancaster, St. Paris, Milford, Kingston and Xenia. Over Three Hundred to Participate. Over 300 players and instructors will thus take part in the contest. Playing places will be obtained by lot, each team thus having an equal chance with every other. By the elimination process the champion of each division will be obtained and these champions will contend for the tournament championship. To many of the teams, who have won a large share of the games in their sections of the state, the quality of playing in these tournaments comes like a whirlwind of surprise, and the interest manifest in the outcome of the series this year is intense. A dozen teams have made strenuous efforts to obtain entry since the closing date and lack of playing time made further entries impossible. Only 24 teams participated a year ago. The winners in 1913 were Delaware first place, and Newark second. In 1912 Findlay was first and Springfield second. The officials of the meet are to be Don Hamilton, formerly of Notre Dame, and George Little, recently elected coach by the University of Cincinnati. The fact that Director Dixon played in the United States on one of the first basket ball teams ever organized is a factor of interest to the high school players. Every preparation is being made by the athletic authorities of Ohio Wesleyan to make the tournament a notable event for all who participate in it.

results of such great institutions as your own state has put at the disposal of its youth; the fine example of your neighboring state, Indiana, in providing for a broad scheme of industrial training—all of these things point to an educational movement which almost staggers the mind when one grasps what it may mean in destroying human misery and in relieving human want. "Within every American mill and workshop today there is going on a process of evolution which is producing amazing results in a higher and yet higher effectiveness. I have with me a report made by an engineer of an American shop to the salesman of the company with which he is allied showing the improvements in their methods of manufacturing in the last six months of 1913. The works had been operated for years with profit, doing well in a competitive business, but the new spirit of efficiency had gotten into them and the results were amazing. Accuracy took the place of ignorance; precision displaced the 'rule of thumb.' This process improved itself to where twenty-eight times more work was done than before. "I am thankful to say, there has come also another and a greater factor by far than any mere mechanical thing. This is the growing appreciation of the value of men and women in industry. This is the wisdom which teaches us that the human side of our factories is more valuable than the mechanical or the material side. This new light shows to us clearly that in the responsiveness of human beings to leadership lies an opportunity for production at low cost, with comfort to the worker and increased income also, which will lead us to industrial victories greater than any we have ever achieved. "The improvement of our methods and the higher valuation put upon the great human factor in our work have already begun to show in the increase in our competing power abroad as well as in great advances at home. "Suppose that in Ohio every boy and girl knew how to do well some one simple kind of productive work. It would revolutionize your factories and your homes and make for peace and contentment throughout all your broad area. This, and no less than this, is that to which we are coming, and to which the door has already swung partly open. "In the field of agriculture the same outlook faces us. The Secretary of Agriculture informs me that the total arable land in the Union is about nine hundred and thirty-five million acres. If we were to cultivate all our arable land on the basis of the results we are getting on the 12 per cent of it which is yielding maximum returns, we should again rather more than double the total.

Found In the Ice

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press

On the 7th day of October, 1852, the ship Princess left Australia with a cargo of wool and other articles valued at $250,000. She had in her treasure room gold in dust, bars and coin aggregating $1,300,000. She was never heard from. In June, 1868, eighteen years after the loss of the Princess, I was one of the crew of the Boston whaler Tallisman, which was trying the cruising ground on the south of Cape Horn. We had had a fair run of luck when we got a gale from the north which lasted for four days and nights without a break. This drove us away south among the ice, and on a dozen different occasions the ship was within a hair's breadth of being cast away or overwhelmed. After the fourth day of the gale there was a calm lasting thirty hours. During this interval the Tallisman lay between two monster icebergs, with her boats down and ready to tow her out of the way should they close in on her. Then we got a strong breeze from the east. Sometimes we lay moored to a berg for several hours; again we were pounding among the great cakes of ice, which threatened every moment to crush in her sides. We had been driving to the southeast for three days when the breeze fell and left us on a heaving sea, with a monster iceberg about two miles away to the south. The ship had thus far sustained little damage, but the crew were exhausted with the hard work and constant vigilance. The men were given an all day's rest, and no incident occurred until late in the afternoon. The mass of ice had a front a mile long on our side, with an average height of 300 feet. What its width was we could not say. We were astonished to see smoke rising from the far side of it. No one doubted that it came from a fire lighted by shipwrecked sailors, who had caught sight of the Tallisman and were making her a signal. The third mate and three men were ordered off in one of the whaleboats to investigate, and I was one of the three selected. We took with us a breaker of fresh water, a bottle of rum, bread, meat, blankets, a boat compass and a lantern, and darkness fell as we pulled away from the ship. We pulled to pass the western face of the berg and found it to be about half a mile long. As we reached its southern limit and turned to the east we caught sight of a small fire on a ledge about 100 feet above the water. As soon as we got up to it the mate hailed and was promptly answered that there were two men on the ledge, one of whom had a broken leg. Thereupon I was ordered to remain by the boat and hold on, while the mate and the two men landed on the berg and began making their way up to the ledge. Twenty minutes later the berg split, a fog settled down, and with it came a breeze. I did not know what to do, and so I laid in my oar, wrapped myself in a blanket and sat down in the bottom of the boat. You will think it queer that I fell asleep under the circumstances, but that is exactly what happened, nor did I wake until daylight came again. Then I found myself in an ice floe which was drifting to the south at the rate of about three miles an hour. I am not at all sure how long I drifted, but the general direction was south, and the time was at least four days and nights. On the morning of what was probably the fifth day I awoke to find that the floe had ceased drifting, and a quarter of a mile to the east of the boat was a mass of ice. It was a mile or more in length and not over thirty feet high and looked more like a wall resting on the water. The ice was yellow and dirty, with rocks embedded in it here and there, and I have no doubt that a good portion of it was the lower part of an iceberg which had turned turtle. Between me and the wall was a jumble of ice, over which it seemed impossible to make my way, but as soon as I had broken my fast I set out to try it. It took me a full hour to make that quarter of a mile, but at length I reached the wall and found that I could easily get up its rough side. When I reached the top it was to discover that the mass of ice was almost a cube, with a great hollow in its surface to remind one of the crater of a volcano. In the center of this hollow lay a mass of wreckage, and after a long stare, half believing my eyes deceived me, I slid down and began investigation. No one will ever see a more curious sight. A space several hundred feet square was covered with broken masts, yards, beams, planks, boards, ropes, blocks and sails. A large ship had here suffered destruction. Just how I could not determine, but it seemed to me as if a great body of ice had fallen on it as he rested in the center. No other force unless gun powder could have so wrecked and scattered her about. Some of the wreckage bore the name Princess. Late in the afternoon the fog began to break up, and I got back to my boat. By night there were lanes of water in every direction, and a strong breeze set in from the south. I drifted to the north all that night and all the next day, but as the second night came on I was picked up by the Scotch whaler Jeannette, which had captured and was cutting in a whale and months later was landed at her home port. Even a sugar coated compliment may be hard to swallow.

CHARGED WITH AN ASSAULT ON A YOUNG GIRL

George Hankins, of Lima, formerly employed in a glass factory, there was placed on trial in common pleas court on a charge of criminal assault alleged to have been committed on 15-year old Emma Barwick, in Lima.

The crime with which Hankins is charged is alleged to have been committed December 30, last, in the home of the girl's mother, Cynthia Roe, who conducts a boarding house. Among the witnesses for the state were the alleged victim, her mother, Mayor George Smoots and Marshal Hobbs. Testimony to the effect that Hankins admitted previous illicit relations with the girl was excluded by the court.

Hankins is the prisoner who cut his throat in the county jail a few weeks ago in what was believed to have been an attempt at a suicide scare. The Barwick girl and five other children of Mrs. Roe lived for six years in the county children's home until last August.

Prosecutor Jones was assisted by attorney A. S. Mitchell. C. W. Montgomery was counsel for the accused.

FISHER IS TAKEN TO ZANESVILLE BY DEPUTY SCHILLING

Deputy U. S. Marshal O. V. Schilling of Columbus, was in Newark Wednesday morning, departing at 11 o'clock for Zanesville having in custody James Fisher for whom a warrant was issued at Columbus yesterday on a charge of violation of the internal revenue laws. The affidavit was prepared by United States District Attorney Harley A. Burnes and charges Fisher with manufacturing a product containing opium, contrary to the federal statutes. The specific charge is that Fisher "cooked" the dope for the purpose of smoking the drug. He was arrested a week ago when the Craig saloon was raided. At that time he was smoking a regulation opium pipe which was captured by the police. Fisher will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Frazier this afternoon.

"MILLIONAIRE FOR A DAY" WRITES TO NEWARK NAMESAKE

Theatrical magnates have made flattering offers to John Jay McDevitt, of Landsdowne, Pa., for a forty weeks' engagement, according to a letter received from McDevitt by Glenn McDevitt, of 36 Ninth street, this city.

The Pennsylvania McDevitt is known through the East as the "millionaire for a day," he having gained much newspaper notoriety in the past few years by his reckless expenditure of money.

John Jay hoards his coin until he has a roll of sufficient dimensions to make a noticeable splash and then he proceeds to spend it like a millionaire. His latest stunt was pulled off a month ago when he caused a small statue of himself to be chiseled out of granite. This he placed on board a special train which he chartered and proceeded to speed it up towards Washington, where he had the United States Marine band meet the train and escort him to his hotel. Later he waited upon officials and requested that his statue be given a place in the Hall of Fame. Needless to say his request was refused.

McDevitt is now at Landsdowne, where he is kept busy answering a mass of correspondence from theatrical people and others who are interested in his strange stunts. In his letter to Mr. McDevitt of Newark, John Jay says:

"I have been approached in the past few weeks by theatrical people who have offered me an engagement of forty weeks at $700 per week, and it looks as though, sooner or later, I would be an actor. If I decide to do this I will blow it all in when I get a few thousands together."

The Pennsylvania man says he knows but little of his relatives and is unable to state whether there is a family connection between him and Mr. McDevitt of this city.

Silicus—"What makes you so positive he isn't married?" Cynicus—"I have just discovered that he is really older than he looks."

FINE $35.00 REFRIGERATOR FROM THE C. R. PARISH CO. A BIG PRIZE IN CONTEST

Right now with the mercury hovering around the zero mark a refrigerator will not appeal so strongly to you. But just wait till the contest closes and the lucky person who wins this splendid refrigerator will shake hands with himself and consider himself the real lucky one.

This $35.00 Automatic Porcelain-lined Refrigerator was purchased from The C. R. Parish Company, the big furniture house at 39 South Third street. It has nickel-plated shelves, removable and adjustable; seven walls of insulation and ice chamber entirely separated from food compartment, and there is a constant circulation of air. Because of its peculiar design and construction it is very economical as regards ice consumption.

The C. R. Parish Co., is and has been for eighteen years, one of the leaders in Newark merchandising. This business had its inception in Columbus more than a quarter of a century ago and has grown from one small store until now there are eighteen large Parish stores in Ohio and today are Ohio's largest furniture dealers and house furnishers.

For two years The Parish store has been featuring the fact that they sell goods on easy payments at the same price as for cash. It's slogan, "It's Easy to Pay the Parish Way" has been made popular by extensive advertising and fair treatment to patrons.

Four floors and basement, all extending from street to the alley at rear, are used to accommodate the splendid big stock of Furniture, Floor Coverings and Stoves.

This store is managed by Mr. W. H. Spring, who most capably looks after every part of the business, having ever in mind the comfort and welfare of his many patrons. Mr. Spring has just completed a number of fine improvements, among them the redecoration of the entire first floor.

Drop in the Parish store and see this fine refrigerator and think what a splendid thing it would be to own it at the close of the Advocate's Big Booklovers' Contest. There is no red tape about this contest. Read the rules and come in. Begin today.

BRINGS SUIT FOR ALLEGED RACIAL DISCRIMINATION

That it is unconstitutional for theaters in Ohio to establish the "color line," is a basis on which Ralph Carey, colored, asked $300 personal damages from J. L. Evans, manager of the Orpheum theater, for alleged racial discrimination.

The first of the year the Orpheum theater displayed a sign, "Caucasian race only." Carey says he purchased two ten cent seats in the theater and went in with his wife. He declares he and his wife were humiliated by being loudly ordered to leave the theater, with the information that no niggers were allowed. This has been worth $300 damage to him as a citizen of Newark entitled to equal rights, he alleged. Attorney S. L. James represents Carey, who is a barber.

Shortly after the occurrence mentioned in the petition colored people held an indignation meeting and after a conference with Manager Evans in the presence of Mayor Bigbee, the "color line" sign was taken from the box office window of the theater.

VOTERS FAVOR THE BOND ISSUE FOR A NEW BUILDING

With Outville voters opposing and Kirkersville favoring, the $10,000 bond issue election for construction of a new school building carried by 26. The vote at Kirkersville was 48 for and 19 against. In Outville it was 46 for and 49 against.

The $10,000 bond issue election for remodeling schools in Granville village will be held next Saturday.

CITY IS VISITED BY THE COLDEST WEATHER OF YEAR

The weather man offered the coldest night and morning of the year. Wednesday morning, frost-trimmed coat collars, icied noses and frost-gray hair and whiskers, were popular outfits, while the mercury denoted a temperature of from 6 to 12 degrees below zero, at 6 o'clock. There was a slight rise at 7:30, while some of the sheltered thermometers downtown registered as low as four below at 7:30.

Local charitable organizations have long since prepared to handle many cases of destitution. Much suffering has been reported to the Salvation Army, which is made worse by the low gas pressure, until families have been provided with coal.

Conditions in the local schools were unimproved Wednesday and school authorities found it necessary to dismiss more of the rooms because of the intense cold. At the Keller school, where coal was installed Tuesday while the school enjoyed a vacation, it was possible to hold classes. All buildings depending on gas for heat, experienced difficulty in maintaining a proper temperature in the room.

At Bader's thermometer at Shell Beach, on Buckeye Lake, registered sixteen degrees below zero at six o'clock Wednesday morning. The lake is well frozen over with a good thickness of ice.
